Dario Fo was awarded the 1997 Nobel Prize for Literature at the age of 71. He is a man of amazing talents - as a writer, actor and mime artist - and one of Europe's greatest living playwrights. His plays, such as "The Accidental Death of an Anarchist", are full of irreverent political satire, and have been translated into most European languages and performed throughout Europe over the last 40 years. Just as significantly, Fo has also been a revolutionary communist for most of his life. This authorized biography focuses on Fo's political work.
