Since the dawn of its history, two cultures have come face to face in the Mediterranean - the people of the desert and the people of the sea. Here, in this fabled landscape, inspired Sephardic chants commingle with sensual songs from its island shores ... Balkan classical music merges with the poetry of the Middle East ... perennial love ballads drift and transmute across empires, continents, and the centuries. Mediterranean reflects Savina Yannatou's lifelong quest to voice these musical threads, even as they weave themselves inextricably into the ever-evolving fabric of the Mediterranean world.
