Economic Revitalization is unique in that it discusses leading revitalization strategies in the context of both city and suburban settings, offering case studies of programme development and implementation. The book is aimed at students and practitioners of economic development planning who seek to foster stronger economies and greater opportunity in inner cities and older suburbs. It is also meant to assist planners in thriving new towns and suburban communities seeking to avoid future economic decline as their communities mature. Economic Revitalization: - Discusses practices in both suburban and inner-city settings - Integrates the planning values of social justice and sustainability into the discussion of implementation strategies - Includes cases that reveal the political nature of the planning process and the types of tradeoffs that often must be made - Provides insights for planners seeking to adopt "best practice" programs from other localities
