In the Lightly-Populated northwestern corner of Nevada, a former geologist and rural schoolteacher, a published poet and ranch owner, and an artist and environmentalist make for an intriguing -- perhaps even unlikely -- trio of friends. In this evocative collection of personal essays, each offers her voice as a testament to the joys and struggles of creating a home and connecting to the land and the people who live there. Carolyn Dufurrena's "The Flying Heart Museum" pays homage to a layered landscape of unique individuals -- not the least of which are her students, searching for themselves in the Nevada wilderness. In "Shared Fencelines," Linda Husa reveals the mystery of horses, the gift of water, and the serendipity of love.
