Jennifer Andros is a gifted violinist and teacher about to inherit the responsibility of Andros Conservatory for Gifted Children in Michigan City, Indiana. Sheas also in love with Adam Creager, who supports her desire to have both career and family, in spite of the 19th century idea that married women stay home. Headmistress Belle Collins has a rule against teachers marrying and forbids Adam and Jennifer to see each other. Adam confides in Jake, the hired ex-slave and Jenniferas best friend, but Jake knows a terrible secret and warns Adam not to interfere. Forced to leave the premises without seeing Jennifer, Adam later hears about a fire thatas claimed two lives, but he wonat rest until he knows for sure what happened to the beautiful music teacher who captured his heart. The Music Teacher is a tale of love, intrigue, mystery, and unconditional friendship.
