The New-School-Year-Moon hangs above every school the night before it opens. This year it shines over the W.T. Melon Elementary School brighter than ever -- and the man in the moon is W.T Melon himself There's no doubt that this year will be full of magical surprises that may teach the third graders a lesson or two. Especially when a playground bully gets a taste of her own medicine, a fairy godteacher grants any wish, and a rash breaks out after too much math
