Post-punk hipsters, cool kids, nuns, and bike riders are rendered in bold contrast in this entertaining and intriguing wordless book. Depending on the background, things seem to mysteriously disappear--and then reappear as you turn the page. A boy's

T-shirt disappears into the background, nuns seem to float in mid-air when their purple habits blend into the purple background, and a bike rider crashes into an invisible tree trunk. This edgy, totally different book, will appeal to adults as well as kids, with its outrageous art and surprise ending
