'This is a good book and one that I would wholeheartedly recommend to my students as being a core textbook, worth a purchase. It's interesting, up-to-date, well written and easy to navigate. What more could a student ask for?" - Jonathan Tummons, "ESCalate". 'Excellent book that covers most of the criteria required for the Dip in Teaching in the Lifelong Learning Sector and the Cert in Teaching in the Lifelong Learning Sector. Easy to read, clear explanations. This book would also make an excellent reference book for the newly qualified tutor' - Cheryl Hine, Teacher Training Programme Leader, Leeds College of Technology, UK. "Teaching in the Lifelong Learning Sector" is an essential introductory textbook for anyone who is working, or training to work, in the lifelong learning sector. The post-compulsory education and training sector is extremely diverse in terms of the range of students, teachers and settings. However, there are basic elements of good practice in teaching and learning which are essential and are explored in this book, including: a thorough understanding of the learners and their needs; an understanding of, and willingness to develop, communication skills; the necessity for reflective practice and continuing professional development; the principles and practices of active learning and assessment for learning; and, the importance of emotions in learning. Linked to the new Lifelong Learning UK standards for teachers, trainers and tutors, this highly practical and accessible book explores the fundamental aspects of teaching and learning, drawing on the most recent theories and developments. Chapters cover topics such as: Communication; Learning Theories; Planning and Preparing; Assessment for learning; and, Questioning and Explaining. The book provides a coherent framework for study and learning, which encourages you to make connections between the various aspects and to develop a holistic view of teaching and learning. This is an essential textbook for anyone studying on a wide range of post- compulsory teacher training courses, including: Preparing to Teach in the Lifelong Learning Sector (PTLLS); Certificate in Teaching in the Lifelong Learning Sector (CTLLS); and, Diploma (Professional and Graduate) in Teaching in the Lifelong Learning Sector (DTLLS).
