A ransom of back taxes has forced Paris' grande dame of Madames to sign a lucrative book deal for a tell-all that would expose the private affairs of her pricey, elegant prostitutes and the sheiks and lords they run with. When news of Cleo's deal hits the media, a bullet shatters the window of her limousine. Someone wants her silenced and suspicion centers on three of her girls: the Cartiers of her collection. Suebee Slyde, a honey-sweet Texas blonde, can't let Madame Cleo reveal her past, much less the unusual fantasies she fulfills for the British publishing king who made her his wife. Sandrine Manadraki, a sophisticated New York brunette, will need more than vodka to block out her billionaire husband's displeasure if the secrets of Madame Cleo's star girl leak out. Down but not out in Las Vegas, beautiful Angel De Marco has links to American mobsters and a reason for getting even that could destroy Madame Cleo's empire. The tape recorder is on and the century's best-kept secrets are pouring in from Madame Cleo's lips. But someone is determined to silence Paris' legendary queen of pleasure once and for all...
