A heartwarming collection of true stories detailing the joys and trials that take place in the life of a full-time dog breeder. Full of feeling and emotion, the stories are as much about the people who purchase the dogs as the dogs themselves, showing rare insight into the magical bond between dogs and their owners. There is Missy, the dog nobody liked; Jacob, the puppy that wouldn't stop biting; Tara, the uncontrollable pet; Crystal, the reluctant lover, and 23 more captivating stories. These are compelling stories that touch the heart and demonstrate the enduring bond that exists between man and his best friend. About the Author: Susan Luginbuhl has been raising Labrador Retrievers for many years. She resides with her husband, four sons, and ten friendly labs on a small farm in the picturesque Connecticut Valley.
