Three modern women must put the past behind them. Natalia Gordeeva is consumed by guilt her bitter, yet self-sacrificing, aunt puts upon Natalia's choices. Can Natalia find her true identity through love? Glenna Mayfield has lived under the shadow of her father's criminal past. When she takes on an ex-convict employee, can she learn to give people a second chance? Janessa Richards has an extraordinary talent for restoring antique paintings that could get her into trouble. Can she learn to trust those who are willing to protect her? Will these women discover freedom from the past within faith and love?
