Ben illustrates his daily life in 3-panel comic adventures involving beer, weed, work, shows, tour, and love. He journals his exploits from each and every day, whether he goes innertubing, attends raucous parties filled with monsters, or hangs out with his girlfriend. And for each entry he lists the song that he drew the day's strip to. His drawing and writing style is sincere and heartfelt, in a way that makes you concerned for Ben's happiness, whether you've met him or not. The quarterly and bi-monthly formats are no more, and now each year will be collected in a single slim paperback, just like in the beginning.
