When consultant anesthetist Moira Farrell is found stabbed to death, shock reverberates amongst her medical colleagues. Worse follows amid rumors regarding her clinical director's incompetence. Had Moira been silenced forever to prevent her from blowing the whistle on him? But then a petty criminal who had worked as a gardener for Moira comes under suspicion. DCI Ed Swift must unravel the tangled threads of the murder whilst his own daughter, unaccountably, has run into trouble with the police. Then, unexpectedly, Swift's investigation flushes out a killer with all the motivation for the murder. Will justice now be done?
