There's Submission, then Domination. Where else can it lead but Obsession? The household of Masters Tarquin Charlton and Paul Everest finds their lives turned inside out by a new addition, the strikingly handsome British actor Rufus. The actor has come to Hollywood to star in an action series called Spycatcher, filled with drama, intrigue, sex and adventure...and that's before the cameras even start rolling. Like all the hottest action movies, Obsession raises the temperature with the steamy booted leathersex that Master Alex Ironrod packed into the first two volumes of his Leather Masters and Slaves trilogy. Tarquin and Paul may want to keep Rufus in their household, but once the excitement starts and the boots come off, what will they do when they discover Rufus isn't confining his danger and intrigue to his TV scripts? Sometimes, even the hottest leathermen can't escape their Obsession.....
