"Amy Goodman is not afraid to speak truth to power. She does it every day." —Susan Sarandon Now available in this unabridged Spanish edition, Democracy Now! radio and television host and best-selling author Amy Goodman, along with her brother David Goodman, expose the government's efforts to control information, while championing those everywhere who dare to fight back. The latter include antiwar crusader Cindy Sheehan, Washington whistleblowers, and the "Yes Men"—an activist group that brilliantly exposed Dow Chemical's unwillingness to apologize for the Bhopal disaster.
