Book Summary This is the first installment; in what is sure to be a long franchise of contemporary poetry, from a young deeply-inspired talent. Inspired by the classical and contemporary poetics, the beatnik generation, jazz, rock, folk, satyrs, shaman, beggars, wisemen, ranting madmen, the blues, a wide array of philosophers, religious and spiritual explorations, ancient eroticism, intricate murals of cinema and paintings. He as in all of the greats seeks out "the grand elusive mysticism" that still faintly revels in our modern society. His palate to encompass and forge any and everything is absolutely copious and eclectic beyond his years. He uses art from all forums to inspire his new found clarity and ever-lingering distortions. From Embryo to Angel is a journey; a vision of birth from a poet's perspective on his path to ascension.
