London's secret is an ability to present a dashing sense of modern style whilst retaining its serious historical place in the world. Locals swear by it, neighbours are envious and visitors keep coming back for more. Find out why. Features: pull-out map; Three authors, 1800 hours of research, over 800 places recommended; Special day-trips chapter and colour sections on London's architecture and the River Thames; Locals lift the lid on traditional pie & mash, the city's Blue Plaques and exclusive literary evenings.
