37 Mind-Stretching Activities: Tap creativity, build cooperation, and promote problem solving with 37 thought-provoking activities guaranteed to create a climate for change. From keynote speeches to staff meetings to group presentations, use these fun icebreakers to help your audience members: relax, focus on your message, connect with one another, look at a problem with a fresh pair of eyes, get a grip on difficult concepts, rethink preconceived notions, and work as a team. Whatever your topic, you'll love the way these exercises prepare participants for learning by energizing minds and bodies, engaging different learning styles, and facilitating free thinking.
