《第五届北京协和呼吸病学峰会暨首届ACCP呼吸与危重症最新进展临床峰会论文集》
主要内容简介：Developing a closer relationship with Chinese pulmonologists is a key international priority for the ACCP, and I view you as critical for those efforts. The programs you run in China each year are very important to the training and education of pulmonary specialists in the region. As we plan for further educational programs, I want to suggest several specific actions that could facilitate the efforts we have jointly begun, building upon the excellent roads you have already made with ACCP and with your leadership role on the Editorial Board of CHEST.
