1870. The author attempts to reproduce the whole plot, and all the most prominent characters in The Tempest, The Merchant of Venice, and the most suitable stories from The Canterbury Tales, Froissart and the Morte d'Arthur in a form that would be appreciable to the young people of the time. Contents: Palamon and Arcite; The Patient Griselda; The Enchanted Isle; Shylock's Revenge; Death of Sir John Chandos; Eustace de St. Pierre; King Arthur and the Round Table; The Blameless Sir Galahad; and Sir Lancelot of the Lake.
