Between the worlds of Elsewhere and Overthere lies the Land of the Pixie Kin, a realm filled with fanciful faeries, mysterious mermaids, wily witches and castaway creatures. The faeries of Pixie Kin are a colorful and vivacious tribe. Born of whimsy, stitched with humor and dotted with daring, these faeries flit from their Pixie Kin homes to visit humans in everyday situations. That bright spot at the edge of your vision, that floating dandelion wish in the breeze, that streak of light dancing behind your eyelids are proof of their existence. Canadian artist Paulina Cassidy has captured twelve members of the Pixie Kin faerie tribe for the first time in this charming calendar.

Paulina is an ambassador to Pixie Kin, and her paintbrush is the portal by which many of the faerie tribe visit. When not visiting Pixie Kin, Paulina lives in Chattanooga, TN with her husband, Kevin.

The interior pages of this calendar are printed on 100% recycled, 50% post-consumer paper, processed chlorine free and printed with soy based inks.
