"From dawn till afterday is done,
Mama loves her little one." A fussy lamb is crying, so her mama dries her tears.
A noisy bird is chirping, so his mama gently sweetens his song.
A sleepy kangaroo is fading, and her mama carries her in her safe, cozy pouch.

Even when kids are not at their best—no matter what, no matter when—mothers love their little ones. Lezlie Evans’ warm, rhyming text delivers this timeless message with grace, and David McPhail’s charming watercolors of baby animals and their mamas strike the perfect tone: safe, sweet, and gently playful. This special book is just right for every child craving reassurance, and for every parent searching for words to express unconditional love.
