When Martin Bourke is assigned by the church to investigate a new religious group, the information he uncovers will change his life forever. He discovers the great secrets and hidden mysteries of human spiritual history. Eventually this knowledge brings him into conflict with the church. This is also a story, inspired by real events, that tells of a retired couple that move into a new house. It has an unseen ghostly occupant, which the husband decides to contact. This will have consequences.... By the time they meet, both Martin and the couple will have undergone huge transformations in their lives brought on by their contact with the unseen worlds. The reader will find that intertwined with an entertaining and sometimes chilling story are explanations of the great mysteries of the world. This is a book that you will not be able to put down.
