Right this way, right this way, have your tickets ready. Watch your step and move along. No crowding please. The show will begin shortly. My name is Proffessor T. LeeZard and I m here to gurantee that what you are about to hear is true. I am about to take you on a journey to a strange place and time, where anything is possible. Step right up. Don't be shy. I see some new faces in the crowd, along with those that dare to return for more. Faces that have seen the unbelievable and those that are about to. Form one line please, the show is about to begin. Right this way, right this way. There s room down front for a few more. Now, if everyone is settled and comfortable, let the unsettling begin. As always, with a wave of THE DRAGONSTICK cane, my trusted aid, may I present to you, the story of two brothers and their race toward death with THE GATEKEEPER.
