An Irish emigrant in Germany tells his son about football, and about home, through the nostalgia he feels for a match played many years ago. This is the story of Euro '88, the largest football event on the Continent, and the Irish team are front and center. The excitement is high for football fanatics like Eoin, Shane and Mick, all working abroad. In Germany supporting the Irish team, they witness highs and lows and the cultural divides that separate them from their host country.
