A Networked Self examines self presentation and social connection in the digital age. This collection brings together new work on online social networks by leading scholars from a variety of disciplines. The focus of the volume rests on the construction of the self, and what happens to self-identity when it is presented through networks of social connections in new media environments. The volume is structured around the core themes of identity, community, and culture - the central themes of social network sites. Contributors address theory, research, and practical implications of many aspects of online social networks including self-presentation, behavioral norms, patterns and routines, social impact, privacy, class/gender/race divides, taste cultures online, uses of social networking sites within organizations, activism, civic engagement and political impact.

lit review. 有用。

和很多编著的书目存在的问题一样：整体系统性不强。但不乏精彩的单篇。

several pieces of research focusing on SNS as a virtual community, a tool to strengthen social capital stock, as well as a stage for identity fostering and nacisscism.

现象的description很多，对社会学和心理学的结合又比较主观，不系统，所以时时觉得隔靴搔痒。

这本书已经扩展成了一个书系，今年夏天一下出四本：https://www.routledge.com/A-Networked-Self/book-series/ANS
