This book, first published in 2009, provides an extensive treatment of Husserl's phenomenology of time-consciousness. Nicolas de Warren uses detailed analysis of texts by Husserl, some only recently published in German, to examine Husserl's treatment of time-consciousness and its significance for his conception of subjectivity. He traces the development of Husserl's thinking on the problem of time from Franz Brentano's descriptive psychology, and situates it in the framework of his transcendental project as a whole. Particular discussions include the significance of time-consciousness for other phenomenological themes: perceptual experience, the imagination, remembrance, self-consciousness, embodiment, and the consciousness of others. The result is an illuminating exploration of how and why Husserl considered the question of time-consciousness to be the most difficult, yet also the most central, of all the challenges facing his unique philosophical enterprise.

评论

An excellent book that will definitely enrich our understanding of Husserl's theory of time or temporality and will definitely change some of understanding of related themes such as, to mention one, the retentive intentionality and its relatedness with image-consciousness and image-intentionality.

a heroic work

前几章主要分析了布伦塔诺的时间理论和一些时间现象学的基本内容，胡塞尔部分主要分析了原印象和滞留部分，二者相互关系讲得不多。后面3章没看
