HONG KONG State of Mind is a collection of essays by a popular blogger who zeroes in on the city's idiosyncrasies with deadpan precision. At once an outsider looking in and an insider looking out, Ng has created something for everyone: a travel journal for the passing visitor, a user's manual for the wide-eyed expat, and an open diary for the native Hong Konger looking for moments of reflection.

作者介绍:

Born in Hong Kong, Jason spent his entire adult life in Italy, the United States and Canada before returning to his hometown four years ago. He is a full-time lawyer, part-time singer, writer, model, food critic, English teacher and photographer. For more, visit www.jasonyng.com.
