The contributors to The City, Revisited trace an intellectual history that begins in 1925 with the publication of the influential classic The City, engaging in a spirited debate about whether the major theories of twentieth-century urban development are relevant for studying the twenty-first-century metropolis.

"The City, Revisited is a major contribution to the history of thought on the three largest cities in the United States and a state-of-the-art appraisal of U.S. urban theory at the beginning of the twenty-first century. This remarkable volume not only provides much additional insight into the history and development of Chicago, Los Angeles, and New York, the contributors both encapsulate and expand upon urban theories that will prove exceptionally useful to those interested in understanding patterns of development in other cities as well, both in the United States and around the world."

—David Gladstone, University of New Orleans

schools of American urban politics

坦白说不喜欢读这种书 没办法read in a "dirty" way哈哈
但另一方面却了解了三种学派不同arguments 挺喜欢老师上课说的 view theory in their ideal type 的确 我对RCT一直如此宽容就是一直把它当ideal type 总之
三种学派并没有universal explanation的宏大目标 个人比较偏向NY center 正如老师所说
美国的abandon downtown挺个例的 别的不说 中国的大城市基本都是市中心最繁华
地价房价最贵 人最多 所以比较偏向NY school 之前去洛杉矶downtown
和我想的很有出入 不至于破败
但确实距离曼哈顿差远了。。不过日式拉面还是hin好吃的哈哈
我真的很擅长胡思乱想闲扯篇...
