Author of the 2010 "New York Times" Best Illustrated Children's Book "Seasons" (Enchanted Lion Books), Blexbolex's "No Man's Land" satirizes the mind's ability to seduce itself--mercilessly hurtling its hero around an implausible dreamland designed to mask the processes of mortality. Blexbolex's first full-length graphic novel is as beautiful as it is disturbing. This book employs Nobrow's spot color print process, only used by a handful of publishers worldwide. The artisanal qualities of this method give the books a screenprinted feel that elevates them to another level of quality. Blexbolex is an illustrator and book artist living in Leipzig, Germany.
